

I Holland Limited, in partnership with Glatt, Colorcon, ADD Technologies and International Consultancy Services invite you to attend the

Jordan Tableting Science Seminar

20th – 21st October 2010

Mövenpick Hotel
Sweimeh, Dead Sea, Jordan

Introduction

This prestigious, 2 day, invitation only seminar, is free to attend and continues the success of recent similar events held in Dubai and Cairo. Following the presentation of technical papers covering a variety of topics, there will be an opportunity to meet the speakers and representatives from the presenting companies, on an informal basis, to discuss individual issues. A hosted evening event will take place on the 20th October.

Who Should Attend

This course is specifically designed for tableting personnel from any industry involved in the process and manufacture of tablets. The subjects covered will be of benefit to all interested parties from tooling technicians to press operators, research and development personnel to supervisors, managers and chemists.

Learning Objectives

The course will enhance knowledge and understanding of several key areas relating to the tableting process including tablet design, process parameters for granulations and coatings, coating technology and best practice for formulation and film processes.

Lecture Topics

- Care and Maintenance of Compression Tooling
- Optimising Tablet Design
- Innovative Solid Dose Forms: Orally Disintegrating Tablets
- Starch 1500 Used as a Binder and Disintegrant in High Shear Wet Granulation
- Predicting Film Coating Productivity of Moisture Barrier Film
- The impact of Process Parameters and Product Properties for Granulation and coatings
- Improving Tool Performance with Steels and Coatings
- Coating: Process and Scale Considerations
- Qualification and Validation in the Pharmaceutical Industry
- Formulating Hydrophilic Matrices: Best Practices and Influence of Shape and Coatings
- Equipment Set Up and Control of Film Coating Process
- Tablet Coating: Formulation Options, Process and Process Parameters
